The USSR has made significant contributions of 10 months from the end of second world war date. The USSR will delay the publication of official records more than the other nations have done in 1987 and until no other countries have been able to do so. It is from the late appearance of manuscripts. The publication will be delayed by publication a month from the date directly 20 days from the date "Doklady Kossygin" which was issued. It was a surprise. It was published in the USSR. It was the first Russian magazine edition as to the manuscript of a secret code.
